

LTA National League (formerly Team Tennis) Competition History (including National Open Roll of Honour)

Over the past 24 years, the competition has grown thanks to commitment from the LTA and major support from sponsors such as Everest, Prince, KIA Motors and Aegon. Through the seventeen years, the competition has grown to include over 6,000 teams (2019) from 8&U through to Open (adult) age groups.

Pre 1993

The Puma Cup

The Puma Cup was a competition that was run up until 1992 and was the competition which provided the teams for the inaugural National Club League to be established in 1993. In 1992, all teams competing in the Puma Cup were given information on the new National Club League and the structure it would take. This meant that for the first time, counties ran leagues in the Puma Cup which was a requirement to qualify teams into the National Club League.

1993 – 1995

Everest National Club League

In 1993, the Lawn Tennis Association decided to launch the National Club League in conjunction with sponsors at the time, Everest Home Improvements. The aim of the competition was to involve 10,000 competitors from nearly 1,000 clubs in raising standards and the general level of interest in the sport. The National Club League Premier Division involved 12 teams in 2 leagues of 6 with Regional leagues supporting this.
