

TOURNAMENT BONUS SCHEME

The Tournament Bonus Scheme (TBS) is designed to support the success of players who are on a ranking trajectory towards Grand Slam Qualifying. Normally this will be an ATP / WTA ranking of around 230. Once players are established in this ranking bracket, and as Grand Slam Qualifying players, the level of bonuses available will be lower as players have the opportunity to play for increased prize money more consistently.

The TBS is a programme unique to British Tennis and, as far as is known, the LTA remain the only tennis Federation offering such an incentive scheme for players across its Pathway. For 2026 we have made the following amendments:

1. Players that receive a main draw singles wildcard to The Championships, Wimbledon, will be unable to claim from the TBS for a further 12 months (from 29th June 2026 - 27th June 2027)
2. WTA 125 singles and ATP Challenger 125 singles are now included in the TBS table
3. We have introduced a fourth swing for the 'additional bonus award' linked to domestic events (details below). Swings, where there are three or more events, will have a £1,000 bonus. Swings with only two events will have a bonus of £500
4. We will have a £100,000 cap on the TBS for 2026
5. Claims will need to be made within one month of the completion date of the event. This will be strictly enforced due to the cap outlined above

Additional Bonus Award

As we did in 2025, we will be offering an additional bonus award linked to the domestic Pro Calendar with the introduction of a new spring swing, therefore the full list will be:

- January/February swing
- Spring swing (April events)
- Summer swing (excluding major events)
- Autumn swing (October/November events)

The leading British ATP and WTA points scorers for singles in a swing where there are three or more events will be eligible to claim a £1,000 bonus., For swings where there are only two events, the bonus available will £500. Please see the table on page 2 for the list of eligible events which will be updated each quarter.
