PLAYING FOR WALES

Wales is not recognised by the International Tennis Federation (ITF) as a tennis nation in its own standing and as such Welsh players compete for Great Britain in major team events such as the Olympics, Davis Cup, Billy Jean Cup and the World Team Cup which is wheelchair tennis' equivalent.

There are opportunities to play for Wales outside of this, and it is a very proud moment when any player does so.

What events can I play for Wales?

- Commonwealth Games, Commonwealth Para Sport Programme and Commonwealth Youth Games (when tennis is included)
- Junior & Senior Home Nations (annually)
- International friendly matches
- Domestic friendly fixtures against GB based counties, regions and nations
- School Games National Finals – Wheelchair tennis

HIGH PERFORMANCE TOURNAMENT TRIPS

Tennis Wales organises trips to domestic performance tournaments where any Welsh players accepted can come together as Team Wales. These trips are subsidised for players and often lighten the load for parents needing to take time off work to travel with their child. The trips also enable players to travel independently with performance tennis coaches.

Our performance trips include British National Championships, domestic LTA Grade 1 & Grade 2 competitions, Tennis Europe and ITF competitions as well as Junior Grand Slams.

How do I take part in trips or receive coach support at tournaments?

Tennis Wales will communicate any opportunities available on a regular basis and you are always welcome to request support from us to support you at a tournament.

Coaches can also apply to our tournament support fund to receive grants to help them to travel to national and international level competition with their players.
