4. Growing the game in the UK

- Currently engage with 687 blind and partially sighted players on a monthly basis as part of the Open Court Disability Development Programme, seeing a 23% growth since 2015. 630 players in England with 222 of those playing in the North region.
- People with a visual impairment entering competitions have grown by 22% since 2016 with 286 entries into regional competitions in 2018. Looking to grow again in 2019 with the inception of a Glasgow regional event.
- Looking at trying to engage more local parks as part of a play and play process to increase the use of facilities as finding somewhere to play on a regular basis is proving difficult.

Regional Plans & Feedback

1. North – Rosie Pybus

- Glasgow regional competition taking place in July, looking for players from all around the country to support the tournament so that it can be a success and be sustained for future years.
- Be aware of juniors at competitions in relation to evening entertainment at regional events. The LTA will look into this and work out appropriate course of action at future events.
- Query around an appropriate warm-up etiquette which the LTA will send out to players.
- Players unsure of official competition rules. LTA to send this out at in next correspondence email to players.
- Query around competition format as short sets are not long enough. LTA confirmed reason for format is due to the number of entrants into competitions. This is a common format in tennis and used at lots of competitions at all levels to allow for more matches to be played. If a longer format is used players will have fewer matches during a weekend. Group to find out if players would rather have a cap on the number of entries and a longer format therefore meaning fewer matches and less variety in the players who are in the draw or a shorter format, more matches and more players to compete against. Group to feed back at the next meeting.
- Query about combining categories at tournaments. Feedback previously received was that players did not want to combine categories at regional tournaments and the format needs to fit alongside the international format which is separate groups. Outside regional tournaments, especially at recreational tournaments, groups should be based on a player's ability rather than their sight category. This will allow for players to play different players outside of their classification group and hopefully lead to some well-balanced matches. Players expressed the feeling that National VI competition is a 'bigger regional tournament' and run the same way as a regional competition, so it did not have a different feel to this. The LTA expressed that the VI nationals are a festival of tennis to bring everyone together and celebrate a good year of sport. The LTA will look at whether it's feasible to hold another competition for the top players who are selection for the development or performance programme (if this is confirmed) to allow for more matches to be played at this level.
- Hosting B1 camps with the support of Louise Assioun. North to ensure these are correctly liaised with Matt Grover for additional support (if requested).
- Query regarding the points system and how points are fairly worked out when in some competitions genders or sight categories are combined due to low numbers. The LTA hope that sight categories are only combined on an ad hoc basis and not at many regional tournaments. However, if they combined more often than expected the LTA will review the points system so that it is fair at the end of the year.

Open Court Disability Tennis

2. Midlands – Neil Bates

- Feedback that new players attended the Loughborough regional event for the very first time which was excellent.
- Neil to link in more with the LTA and BBS around sourcing volunteers and coaches at events and competitions to build a better working relationship with partners and colleagues.

3. South & South East – Paul Gillett

- Second Regional Tournament going ahead in Brighton.
- Paul met with Dave Hardman (DDP) to look at starting up some new sessions in Maidstone.
- Linking with Portsmouth Tennis Club to increase VI tennis activity.
- Query regarding international competition info to be communicated sooner. The LTA confirmed this was delayed due to the integration of Tennis Foundation activities into the LTA. However, everything is being done now to meet deadlines.
- Cases around safeguarding of players, vulnerable adults and parents should now be linked in with your relevant LTA regional safeguarding officer. If an incident occurs at a regional tournament this should be reported to the referee and tournament organiser.

4. Metro – Amanda Green

- Currently looking at barriers of sport for people with a visual impairment. Producing a survey which will be sent out nationally.
- New CEO appointment and sport development officer
- Looking to start up DL Northwood session again. Metro to link with David Hardman (DDP)

LTA Coaching Level 3 Update

- The LTA is now looking at a specialised module for VI players including an insurance policy so visually impaired coaches can work with visually impaired players and receive the same benefits as other coaches do who currently hold an LTA level 3 coaching qualification.

British Blind Sport Update

- See my voice programme currently achieving good engagement as this is a platform for young leaders to have an opinion and support at sporting events, becoming more inclusive and accessible.
- My guide service is a programme looking at getting volunteers from the start line to door step in sport and have partnered with athletics find a guide service to increase the capacity for guide dogs to get more people in sport by using transport links effectively.
- Increase the recruitment of volunteers with BBS being a positive advocate for this, though the problem with this is finding the right opportunities for people to get involved with sport. BBS to link in with LTA and regions, including the PDP roles to grow more opportunities in sport.
- Successful in receiving a grant from Children in Need to engage 450 families over a three year period in sporting activity.
- E-Learning module won an international learning award for the positive use of accessibility.
- In May the national sport activity finder will be launching. The LTA will put the National Tennis Centre on their as a first step to get more clubs to sign up; thus improving the engagement of activities.

5. International activity

Performance

Open Court
Disability Tennis

- Looking to develop a VI performance group for top players in the country which will then link to international events, such as the world championships. Selected players will be invited to one or two camps a year, headed by Louise Assioun and with the support of the disability competitions team.

The LTA will be looking at this in more depth and will refer back to the group when appropriate detail has been confirmed.
