SPOTLIGHT ON EAST GLOUCESTER CLUB IN CHELTENHAM

This month we heard from Darren Morris at East Gloucester Club in Cheltenham. He has worked with the LTA to produce an insightful case study on their padel story. Any clubs considering starting their padel journey should read the full story here.

In short, East Glos secured 50% project funding from the LTA's Quick Access Loan and self-financed the rest to build 3 flood-lit padel courts. The full project cost £250,000. The club introduced pay and play which allowed non-members to play padel whilst offering a lower hourly rate to members.

So how are they doing so far?

- 200+ new members.
- Popular tournaments run once a month attracting more than 80 players.
- Current court utilisation is 55% increasing to over 80% at peak times.
- Anticipated return of £20,000 in year one for court hire.
- Increased sales in pro shop and sponsorship opportunities
- 250 club members have attended padel taster sessions
- A new rackets membership has united squash and tennis communities

Let's hear it for the girls

A familiar ingredient at successful padel venues is the availability of training sessions and fun tournaments and leagues. East Gloucester is no exception and run fun mixed, ladies and men's tournaments once a month and reported 8 ladies' pairs in a recent ladies' tournament.
