

TOURNAMENT BONUS SCHEME (TBS) 2022

The LTA Tournament Bonus Scheme (TBS) is designed to recognise the success of British players who are achieving relevant results on the international stage.

The Scheme offers financial support (in addition to earned prize money) to players based on their results and performances at ITF World Tennis Tour and ATP Challenger level events. It is designed to support players who are not on the LTA's other funding programmes and expand the number of British players as a National Governing Body we can support. As far as we are aware, we are the only NGB that offers such a scheme to recognise and support players across the breadth of professional tennis and not just those who are selected for an LTA funding programme.

In 2020 and 2021 due to the Covid-19 pandemic the TBS was significantly enhanced in order to support British players competing internationally and to reflect the increased costs associated with travel, the limited number of tournaments and the limited number of earning opportunities. This enhanced package will continue until December 31st 2021.

Moving into 2022, the LTA has significantly increased its investment into a new enhanced domestic calendar with 16 men's and 16 women's ITF World Tennis Tour events in the revamped calendar (a doubling of events from 2019), in addition to the traditional grass court season events. This major investment, amongst many other benefits, is intended to provide more opportunities to compete in the UK, to reduce some of the associated travel costs and to enable players, alongside other events delivered by the LTA and its partners, to support their careers at home in the UK.

We are delighted to confirm that the TBS will continue to form a central part of the LTA Support Programme in 2022 (full details of the LTA Support Programme are available here: <https://www.lta.org.uk/play/player-pathway/players/>). The bonuses available have been amended for 2022 to reflect the major new investment in the tournament calendar and to ensure this programme is sustainable for the future. It continues to provide unrivalled support and significant incentive for British players whilst competing in events in the UK and overseas across the rest of the year.

Below is the information for the TBS for the period January 1st 2022 - December 31st 2022.
